Social Credit Meeting

Dr. Cross Says Enthusiasm is Greater Than in 1935

Two hundred ministers and the federal members of the Social Credit Association addressed a public meeting at Delia on Thursday evening of last week. Jack King acted as chairman, and was assisted by L. E. Hocking.

On rising, Hon. Dr. W. V. Cross requested the audience to join in singing one verse of the theme song: "O God our help in every need."

He then addressed the meeting, opening his address by the minister of Health who was glad to be back among the people of the country.

He had addressed twelve meetings and five constituency caucuses this year, and assured his listeners that enthusiasm for Social Credit was greater now than in 1935.

The people were working for material reform and must be prepared to give the government material aid.

He said that he was concerned, if the people wished to select some other man to take his place he would accept the challenge.
